

Brooklyn Soldier With Many Wounds Is "Feeling Fine"

Private Hugh A. Duffy One of Several Local Men in Casualty List

Gassed, Lost Fingers

Sergeant First Reported as Dead, Still Is Alive, Wife Believes

The names of several New Yorkers appeared in the casualty list yesterday. Among those killed or wounded are:

Private Meyer Berkoff died on July 30 from wounds received in action. He was 20 years old and lived at 751 East 96th Street. He went to France from Camp Upton last March.

Private Louis T. Hirshfeld, killed in action the latter part of September, was 22 years old and lived at 243 East Broadway. He was drafted in March last and is a native of France.

Private Fred Herman, killed in action September 18, was only 18 years old. He enlisted in the old 23d Regiment when the war broke out. His parents live at 369 South First Street, Brooklyn.

Private Hugh A. Duffy, wounded at Chateau Thierry on July 31, lived at 58 East Seventh Street, Brooklyn. He recently got married and two fingers of his left hand had been gashed so that his hands were filled with shrapnel. He was being fine and had gained fourteen pounds since being admitted to the hospital.

Sergeant Benjamin Silverman has been reported as having died of wounds August 26 and later as having been severely wounded on September 8. His wife, who lives with the two children at 263 Madison Street, Bronx, has received a letter from him dated September 2. She has written the War Department, asking that the apparent error as to her husband be straightened out. She is confident he is alive.

Lieutenant Edward A. Wallace, chaplain in France, is reported to have died from pneumonia September 23. His parents live at 106 First Street, Brooklyn, however, received a letter from him dated September 21, in which he said he was in excellent health.

The mistake which is believed to have been made may have resulted from the fact that a Lieutenant Edward Wallace attached to the infantry, had been killed. Wallace's mother, Mrs. Wallace is now trying to secure definite news for her son. Father Wallace, before going overseas, was assistant rector of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn.

Congress Essential Industry, Says Baker

The Quartermaster Corps of the army will have to struggle along without the aid of Congressman John J. Delaney, of the Seventh New York District (somewhere in Brooklyn), because he is in Congress.

Mrs. Wallace is now trying to secure definite news for her son. Father Wallace, before going overseas, was assistant rector of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn.

War Chiefs Forbid All "Frat" Activities

Government Officials Feel College Societies Distract From Training Work

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Operations of fraternities and all activities connected with fraternal organizations in the colleges and universities throughout the country at which student army training corps have been established have been prohibited for the duration of the war by the War Department.

News of this was received at the University of Pennsylvania today by Professor H. F. Smith in a detailed statement from the military authorities at Washington.

In the communication the attitude of the authorities is fully explained. The consensus of opinion among the war chiefs is that it is impossible to secure a successful mixture of social activities as conducted by fraternities and military discipline as required by the newly established order.

The Casualty List

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The casualty lists made public by the War Department to-day contain the names of 874 officers and enlisted men.
